

Contents

Part 1: Building Strong Foundations

Chapter 1: Building a career that can change with you – future of work, identity and sustainable progression in law

By Clare Jones, University of Warwick

Chapter 2: Take control of your career from the outset (and mind the gaps)

By Michael Roster, former managing partner, Morrison & Foerster Los Angeles

Chapter 3: The art of effective communication, negotiation and advocacy

By David Parnell, founder, True North Partner Placement

Chapter 4: The importance of working like a human

By Nais Mouret, certified emotional intelligence practitioner and leadership consultant

Chapter 5: Working with AI and legal tech

By Colin Levy, lawyer, legal technology strategist, and author

Chapter 6: Balancing work and life – boosting productivity and preventing burnout

By Kayleigh Leonie, senior associate, Macfarlanes

Chapter 7: Professionalism, ethics and reputation

By Iain Miller, partner, Kingsley Napley LLP

Part 2: Progressing in your career

Chapter 8: Managing performance

By Cath Brown, coach, Skilful Conversation

Chapter 9: Client relationships and business development

By Joanna Gaudoin, founder, ClientWise

Chapter 10: Stepping into leadership

By Helen Hamilton-Shaw

Chapter 11: Navigating career advancement – and setbacks – while maintaining wellbeing

By Hannah Beko, founder, Authentically Speaking

Part 3: Alternative career paths

Chapter 12: Who gets to be a lawyer? social mobility, pathways, and inclusivity

By Yanthe Richardson, partner, Foot Anstey LLP

Chapter 13: Legal-adjacent roles

By Tom Evans, managing consultant and chief of staff for the director of client solutions, Norton Rose Fulbright LLP