

Table of contents

I. Introduction	5
1. How it all came about	5
2. Who has this Special Report been written for?	5
3. Why you need this Special Report	6
4. How this Special Report is set out	7
5. A way of looking at development	9
II. Moving in-house	11
1. Why? And is it for you?	11
2. What makes working in-house different?	12
3. No longer a one-way street	14
III. Learning about other functions – business and management skills	15
1. What skills are needed and where can you acquire them?	15
IV. Skills for the in-house lawyer	19
1. Developing your team	19
2. Moving upwards	32

V. The lawyer as coach and mentor	35
1. Coaching	35
2. Mentoring	42
VI. Developing your career away from law (but in a legal environment)	45
1. What does the new organisation need from you?	45
2. What will you be doing?	46
3. Conclusion	48
VII. Developing your career in-house (but not as a lawyer)	49
1. Getting to be GC or a similar role	49
2. The options when you become GC or a senior lawyer	50
VIII. Developing your career after law	59
1. The importance of managing your career life	59
2. One reason to develop a post-law career: you may be working at 103!	60
3. Or is it just luck?	62
4. Developing a different type of CV	62
5. Where to get help	63
6. Becoming a non-executive director	65
IX. Some final words of wisdom	67
1. Advice and tips	67
2. Concluding thoughts	72
Endnotes	74
About the authors	76
About Globe Law and Business	78
Notes and ideas	79