

Contents

Executive summary

About the authors

Part 1: Role of the Legal COO

Chapter 1: Horses for courses – the spectrum of chief operating officer roles in law firms

By Chris Bull, principal, Edge International

Chapter 2: Shaping change: the rise of the COO

By Laura McNair, head of People & Operations, Totum

Chapter 3: The three flavors of law firm COO

By Stephen Allen, chief scout, Trampelpfad, and Mark J. Masson, managing partner, Lotis Blue Consulting

Chapter 4: Habits – are they your COO superpower or holding your firm back?

By Paul Bennett, solicitor and partner, Bennett Briegal LLP

Chapter 5: When a new firm leader takes the reins

By Patrick J. McKenna, internationally recognized author, lecturer, strategist, and seasoned advisor to the leaders of premier law firms

Chapter 6: Six factors that impede effective firm leader-COO relationships

By Patrick J. McKenna, internationally recognized author, lecturer, strategist, and seasoned advisor to the leaders of premier law firms

Chapter 7: The COO role in managing profitability and client engagement

By Steve Nelson, executive principal, The McCormick Group

Chapter 8: Three roles the COO must play to enable innovation and digital transformation

By Kate Boyd, COO, Sente Advisors

Chapter 9: The chief operating officer and the use of data in law firm management

By David S. Schaefer, managing director, Calibrate Consulting, Inc.

Chapter 10: The role of the chief operating officer in a law firm – a personal case study

By James G. Perkins, chief operating & compliance officer, Procopio

Chapter 11: The New Law COO

By Kiran Scarr, counsel – transformation, Support Legal Limited

Part 2: Interviews with Legal COOs

Interview 1: Peter Blair, chief operating officer of Quadrant Chambers

Interview 2: Kimberly A. Gardner, chief operating officer of Holland & Knight LLP

Interview 3: Ricarda Hauke, chief operating officer of Taylor Wessing

Interview 4: Andrew Keith, chief operations officer of DAC Beachcroft LLP

Interview 5: Jennifer P. Keller, president and chief operating officer of Baker Donelson

Interview 6: Darren Mitchell, chief operating officer of Simmons & Simmons

Interview 7: William Robins, operations and compliance director, Keystone Law